

REPUBLICANS

STAND FIRMLY---STRIVE VALIANTLY FOR THE CAUSE

HARDING and COOLIDGE and "AMERICA FIRST"

Shoot straight at the Democratic slogan which reads: "A vote for Cox is a vote for peace."

Remember the Democratic slogan of 1916 which read: "He kept us out of war."

KEEP CONSTANTLY BEFORE YOU ARTICLE 10 OF THE WILSON LEAGUE OF NATIONS, WHICH COX IS PLEDGED TO SUSTAIN. REMEMBER THAT IT MAKES THIS LEAGUE A LEAGUE FOR WAR INTO WHICH OUR RESOURCES AND OUR MEN MAY BE CALLED AT ANY TIME BY THE ORDER OF EUROPEAN DIPLOMATS.

Cox is not the candidate of the Democratic citizens, he is the candidate of the Wilson League of Nations and the Candidate of the "Wets"

See to it that New New Mexico's electoral votes are cast against Cox

AND REMEMBER, REPUBLICANS, THAT YOUR STATE TICKET IS COMPOSED THROUGHOUT OF STRONG, CLEAN, EFFICIENT MEN, WHO HAVE MADE A CLEAN CAMPAIGN AND WHOSE ELECTION MEANS CLEAN, PROGRESSIVE, EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT FOR OUR STATE.

LET NO LAST MINUTE BARRAGE OF FALSEHOOD OR APPEAL TO PREJUDICE DISTURB YOUR FAITH OR DETER YOUR EFFORTS IN BEHALF OF THE WELFARE OF OUR NATION AND THE CONTINUED PROGRESS OF NEW MEXICO.

Let these slogans guide you on election day:

There's Merit in Mechem

Every Republican candidate is competent

SPORTS

Much dissatisfaction has been expressed in America over the result of the Olympic games held in Belgium recently. Although America had the winning team, had there been a smaller team to hold up American prestige it is doubted that it would have accomplished the purpose of its errand. Although we had a margin of over one hundred points above our nearest rival, Finland, when one stops to consider the population of about three million of the little Baltic country, the showing of their team of twenty-four men was much more wonderful than our achievement. Uncle Sam scored nine first places; Finland did as well. John J. Hallman, athletic expert of the Boston Globe, decides that the meet will "go down in history as a failure." There is a large enough population in America to produce championships in nearly all branches of athletics and it will be accomplished if the young athletes of this country will take to training in the type of athletic that Americans seem to go weakest in. The United States will undoubtedly make a better showing in the meet to be held in 1924. The American team went with the purpose of winning, which it did, and it was a great victory regardless of the fact that they could have done better. The race held recently at Windsor, Ontario, between the two great race horses, Man'o'War and Sir Barton, was won by the former by a lead of ten lengths in the scheduled mile and a quarter race. The owner of Sir Barton, said that the race was won by the best horse that both horses were at their best, and that his horse was fairly beaten. The result of the race leaves Man'o'War indisputably the fastest horse in the world of his type of racing.

The fight held on Columbus Day between Carpenter and Levinsky was won by the former, by a knockout in the fourth round. There has been several complaints throughout the entire country that the fight was a fake; but if the statements of the two fighters are taken at their face value it was a square fight entirely. It is believed by most that the fight was honest and it is believed by most that the majority of the complaints were from poor losers. Part of Carpenter's statement in regard to the fight is as follows: "I pledge my honor as a soldier and a citizen of France to the Great American Republic that I fought to the best of my ability, and I sincerely believe from the bottom of my heart that Levinsky did the same." That, with Levinsky's statement in part as follows: "In the second round Carpenter hit me harder than I have ever been hit before. From that moment to the end of the contest I was dazed." Personally, and I believe a great amount of the people of the United States believe that the fight was square and that Carpenter should get full credit for it.

Sergt. Morris Fisher, of the United States Marine Corp. is the champion rifle shot of the world. Fisher won the three hundred meter free rifle match at the Olympic shoot recently, using a United States magazine rifle. He was pitted against 90 expert riflemen representing 13 different countries. His score was 996 out of a possible 1080. This is the first time in history that this classic has been won by a competitor using the standard military rifle of any country. It is also the first time that an American has won this event.

Marvise Delvart, a French athlete broke the world's record for the 500 meter run recently, covering the distance in one minute and five and three-fifths seconds. The race was run under the auspices of the Sporting federation of France. The former record was one minute and seven and three-fifths seconds, made by F. Rajz, of Hungary in 1913.

The biggest event in football circles for the season will be the first game to be played between the Harvard and Yale University elevens on Oct. the twentieth. One of the features of the game will be the placing of numbers on the backs of the players so that the spectators can distinguish one from the other.

THE HELL BOUND TRAIN

Tom Gray lay on the bar-room floor. Having drunk so much he could drink no more. So he fell to sleep with a troubled brain. And he dreamed that he rode on a Hell bound train. The engine with blood was red and damp. And brilliantly lit with a brimstone lamp. For fuel an imp was shoveling bones. While the furnace rang with a thousand groans. The boiler wase filled with lager beer. And the devil himself was the engineer.

The passengers made such a motley crew. Church members, Athelst, Gentle and Jew. Rich men in broadcloth and beggars in rags. Handsome young ladies and withered old hags. Yellow and black men, red, yellow and white. All chained together, what a terrible sight. But they capered about and sang in their glee. And laughed and joked in their agony.

My faithful friends you have done your work. And the devil can never a pay-day shirk. You have bullied the weak and robbed the poor. And the starving brother turned from your door.

You have laid up gold where the canker rusts. And given free vent to your fleshly lusts. You have Justice scorned and corruption sown. And trampled the law of nature down.

You have drank and rioted, murdered and lied. And mocked at God in your Hell-born pride. You've paid full fare so I will carry you through. For 'tis only just that you should get your due.

Why the laborer expects return for his hire. So I'll land you safe in the lake of fire. Where your flesh shall roast in the flames that roar. And my Imps will torment you forever more.

Then Tom awoke with an agonizing cry. His clothes soaked with sweat and his hair standing high. And he prayed as he never prayer before. To be saved from drink and the devil's power.

And his vows and prayers were not in vain. For he never more rode on a Hell bound train.

LEAGUE FACT IS VAIN.

The absurdity of the Democratic claim that the League of Nations ever had any real hope of settling the quarrel between Lithuania and Poland is emphasized by the recent announcement that Lithuania had pledged herself to allow the Russian Bolsheviks to use her territory as a base from which to operate against the Poles.

The pledge of Lithuania is contained in a formal treaty of peace with the Bolsheviks, a copy of which was obtained in Washington from a semi-official source. It was sent to Washington by government agents.

Such a treaty, Washington officials admitted, would make a settlement of the Polish-Lithuanian difficulties by the league or any other means of arbitration clearly impossible as long as the Poles and Bolsheviks were at war. Even should Lithuania agree to abide by the award of the arbitrators, she is bound by this treaty to let the Bolsheviks, if they so desire, use her territory to attack Poland, which is an act of war against Poland.

Lithuania, to be sure, would have the choice of living up to the treaty or obeying the league of nations, but there is no doubt which course would be chosen since the Bolsheviks would attack Lithuania for breaking her treaty while the league would be powerless to take military action against her.

In view of the existence of this Soviet-Lithuanian treaty, it is puzzling how the announcement that the league had settled the dispute between Poland and Lithuania came to be made and heralded in this country as a great league victory. Officials of the league in all probability know of the treaty and also know their efforts would be fruitless because of it. That such an impression may have been allowed to go on with the thought that it would be used for league propaganda in America is not outside the bounds of probability.

THE RED CROSS OF PEACE.

I am the Red Cross of Peace; the outgrowth of war's travail; a reawakening to the interests of a nation. Consecrated to the needs of humanity and inspired by the love of man for his fellow, I go forth to heal the sick, to make strong the weak, to teach the gospel of clean living and well being. I give aid to the needy and help them lift themselves up out of adversity. I welcome into my house those who are heavy laden, and give them rest. I have the wounds to men's souls.

I am a refuge from fire, and flood, and pestilence; a sheet anchor against the tempest of calamity. The love of little children is mine, that they may grow to the full fruit of manhood and womanhood. My interest is in the welfare of the community. I ease the way of the cripple. I am compassionate of the aged. My exultation is in the strength of mankind. I teach, I lead, I serve.

I am the Great Mother, brooding over the sons and daughters of men, that they may go forward, strong and well and happy, to the upbuilding of a great Nation.

I am the Red Cross of Peace.

WON'T MEND LIBERTY BELL.

Mayer of Philadelphia Says Defect Makes Bell Dearer to Americans.

PHILADELPHIA—Mayor Moore, of Philadelphia, has refused to permit the mending of the Liberty Bell, of which he is custodian. He is quoted in the Public Ledger as saying:

"Certain persons scientifically and patriotically inclined are urging that the Liberty Bell be patched up. We will say respectfully but firmly to those gentlemen:

"Touch not that bell! Touch not that sacred relic! It would be sacrilege to tamper with that revered heritage."

"The crack in the bell is now part of it. It was silenced after tolling at the funeral of Chief Justice Marshall in July, 1853. Since then the people of all the land have seen the bell in its present condition. By the mysterious processes of love the defect has made it all the dearer to their hearts."

The mayor referred to a suggestion made to him recently by the Ohio Society and other organizations that the crack in the bell be repaired by a new process of electric welding.

"As long as I am mayor of Philadelphia," said Mr. Moore, "the blessed bronze messenger of liberty will remain silent and untouched."

RECONSTRUCTION

Gay young hero at my knee, Weaves a basket ardently. Laughs—to hide a stab of pain— Lays it in my lap again. "Now I've tried with all my might: Won't you please m'am, fix it right?"

"Just a minute then," he begs, "While I stretch my darned old legs." Takes his crutches from the floor, Fumbles, whistling, through the door, Puffs a careless cigaret, Cheerily—but my eyes are wet.

For all the mother heart of me Grieves with that past agony.— Foodless, sleepless days in France, Horrors of the long advance, All he might not, if he could Tell of haunted Belleau Wood.

Child the tortures that you braved, In the eyes of those you saved Scared with immortal beauty,— You, who only did your duty, (O, I'd bear it, if I might, If pain of mine could "fix it right.")

But only God, lad, can undo What the devil did to you. Teach us as you limp through life, Deeper meanings of that strife; While we, comrades unknown, yet Remembering, teach you to forget. S. H.
